

TWELVE JURORS SECURED TO TRY JOHN HENRY ON MURDER CHARGE

PRESENTATION OF CASE WILL BE MADE AT OPENING SESSION OF THE COURT THIS MORNING

Defense May Begin Taking of Evidence Without Formal Statement—Majority of Jurors Are Farmers—Concord Precinct Largely Represented in List—Prosecution In Examining Jurors Laid Stress on Question of Intent—More Than Fifty Veniemen Examined.

CHARLES EZARD.

For whose murder John Henry is now on trial in the Morgan county circuit court.

After a tedious day spent in the examination of 54 possible jurors the list of twelve men who will try John W. Henry for the murder of Charles Ezard was completed at 5:10 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. At that hour court adjourned until 9 o'clock this morning when the opening statements will be made by the prosecution and defense and the taking of testimony will begin. The jurors finally accepted were: John Ehler, Jr., of Jacksonville, district No. 7.

Charles Hart, Franklin, district No. 1.
J. W. Mann, Jacksonville, district No. 9.
John Gofnett, Concord.
Elmer Henderson, Arcadia.
L. L. Hart, Sinclair, in charge of W. T. Filson, Concord.
Edgar Cooper, Concord.
Casper Blumling, Concord.
J. G. Berger, Mercedes.
H. H. Hansmeier, Jacksonville, district No. 6.
A. A. McNeal, Sinclair.

The jurors after taking the oath administered by Deputy Circuit Clerk Gilbert Masters, were instructed particularly by the court not to talk about the case amongst themselves or with any other person and were placed in charge of Deputy Sheriff Kettering and Weatherford. They will take their meals at the Pacific hotel during the trial and will have rooms at the Grand hotel. The rooms there at their disposal are so connected that one of the deputies is posted at the entrance and the second deputy at the entrance at the opposite side of the suite.

Defense May Make No Statement.
The statement was made by counsel soon after court adjourned that the opening statement today on behalf of the state will be made by T. F. Smith. It is possible that there may be no opening statement by the defense and that these attorneys will content themselves with a statement following the closing of the testimony. E. E. Hairgrove it is known, believes in this procedure as he said recently that out of 175 or 180 cases in which he had appeared that in less than a dozen had he made an opening statement.

In the questions propounded during the examination of jurors yesterday stress was laid by the state upon two questions—one, relating to the rule of law that a man is presumed to intend the probable and natural results of his acts. The second question was in effect that a man is presumed to be of sound mind, and that this presumption must continue until evidence is produced to prove otherwise. In asking these questions the form which found most acceptance with the court was as follows—"A man is presumed to intend the probable and natural results of his acts. Would you, if taken as a juror observe this rule of law?" On the second question the form most accepted was "A man is presumed to be of sound mind and that presumption must obtain until evidence is introduced to show that he is insane. Would you be willing to observe this rule of law?" Another question frequently asked by the prosecution was as to the scruples the prospective jurors might have with reference to the infliction of the death penalty. Five jurors were excused on this ground. Presumption of Innocence Important. In their examination of jurors the attorneys for the defense laid special emphasis on the necessity of the jurors entering the trial with the presumption of innocence as properly relating to the defendant. The court several times had occasion to explain that the presumption of innocence did not necessarily mean that the jurors must not believe that the accused had committed the act charged but rather that as the law considers every man innocent until proven guilty that in a case like this, as well as any other, the presumption of innocence must be accorded the defendant.

Mr. Turley First Juror Examined.
When court convened Tuesday morning the questioning of witnesses began at once.

Mr. Hairgrove examined Douglas Turley, who said he had read about the case in the newspapers and had talked about it. He had never heard the facts of the case, and had never formed an opinion, and therefore never expressed an opinion. He said he was prejudiced to insanity as a defense. He did not know the Henry family and had no business relations with any member of that family. He also said he knew of no reason why he could not try the case fairly. He was then passed as competent by the defense.

Mr. Butler then took up the questioning for the prosecution. Mr. Turley said that he was 52 years old. Then Mr. Butler asked this question: "Mr. Turley, the law is that a man is presumed to be of sound mind until the evidence shows to the contrary; if chosen as a juror would you observe that law?" He said he would. He said he knew of no reason why he could not try the case fairly and impartially and was then passed upon as competent by the prosecution. Mr. Hairgrove then asked if the juror was a member of an order or organization to seek out criminals, to which he answered yes.

Mr. Dinwiddie was asked if he belonged to such an organization and said he did, but that could not interfere with the trial of the case. Mr. Dinwiddie was excused.

Mr. Hairgrove examined Owen Buckley, who said that he had read and heard of the case, and the newspapers and had formed his opinion from such information. He has expressed his opinion, and still holds the same, which would require evidence to remove. He was excused for cause.

C. W. Martin, who lives northwest of the city, was examined by Mr. Hairgrove. He said he has talked and read of the case and had formed his opinion as the guilt of innocence of the defendant and had expressed the same. He was excused for cause.

John Bauman was next examined by Mr. Hairgrove. He said he had read and heard of the case, and had formed and expressed his opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Judge Jones then asked if his opinion was so fixed that it would require evidence to remove it. The answer was in the affirmative, and the juror was excused for cause.

John Funk, who was next examined, was excused.

CLASS DAY AT HIGH SCHOOL WAS EXTRAORDINARY SUCCESS

With Friends Filling Auditorium to Utmost Limit, Senior Class of 1914 Appear in Brilliant Program—Field Day Announced.

In the fulfillment of an old tradition which requires the high school graduating class to surrender to the juniors the mantle of their dignity and to set upon a time for historical review and prophecy, the J. H. S. seniors of 1914 appeared Tuesday evening before a large audience of fellow students and friends in the annual class day exercises. The entire program was cleverly conceived and skillfully carried out, reflecting considerable credit upon the eighty-two young people who will be graduated next Thursday from the Jacksonville high school. Announcement was made at the close of the exercises regarding the field day program which will be given today at Nichols park. Harlan Williamson, president of the class, was master of ceremonies.

Of especial attraction before and after the program were the manual exhibits showing the work of students in art, domestic science and manual training. The art and manual training exhibits were shown in the upper hall and the domestic science in the basement.

The order of the class day exercises was as follows: Selection—High School Orchestra. Double Quartet—Nell Self, Frances Kola, Leila Potter, Marie Wiswell, Albert Lee, Vernon Quintal, Roland Kiel, Harlan Williamson.

Class History—Ruth Chipchase. Class Poem—Clara Robinson. Presentation of Spoon to Juniors—Bess Pyatt.

Response for Juniors—Floyd Williamson. Class Prophecy—Myrtle Reynolds. Class Will—Margaret Strandberg. Presentation of Trophies to Seniors—George Coe and Helen Morris.

Expresses Thanks of Class.
In his farewell address, in which were expressed the parting sentiments of the class on taking leave from classmates and teachers, Mr. Williamson briefly uttered the appreciation of the seniors for all that juniors, teachers, lower classmen and other friends have done for them. To the two class officers, Miss Scott and Mr. Buland is the gratitude of the class especially due.

The president then displayed to the audience a large photograph of the seniors with their class officers, individually mounted and formally presented to the school. The pictures thus assembled were the work of Otto Spieth.

In conclusion the seniors united in singing the class song, both words and music the composition of Miss Grace Potter.

Field Day at Park.
For the field day program high school students will go at 11 o'clock to Nichols park. A basket ball game will be played at 1:30 o'clock there will be a baseball game between a senior-sophomore and freshmen-junior team. Coach H. M. Buland will act as umpire. The high school band will be on hand at the game and after its close will give a concert in the pavilion. Dancing and other amusements will be the order of the day, following the game and concert.

Exhibits at School.
Exhibits at the school building Tuesday were excellently executed and elicited much favorable comment. They were in charge of Miss Anna G. Brown, head of the manual training department; Miss Isabel Baldwin, teacher of domestic science; Miss Agnes Rogerson, domestic science assistant and Miss Maude Smith, instructor of art, in the public schools. The sewing exhibit, in charge of Miss Rogerson, showed the work of eighth grade, freshmen and sophomore classes in plain and fancy sewing, and offered a high degree of skill and artistic taste. All of Miss Rogerson's work is of a high order.

Several new features were shown in the art exhibit. The leather crafts work is new as is that in commercial design and Miss Smith is deserving of commendation for the quality of these recently added varieties of work. The pupils of Miss Brown had on display tables, chairs, tabernacles, piano stools, magazine racks, etc., in both mission and gold-leaf finish. The entire manual training exhibit was a most creditable one. As evidence of the class work in domestic science, pupils of Miss Baldwin had receipt books and lecture notes on display in the room where the sewing was shown. Although less evident to the eye, the efficiency of high school students as scientific cooks, is well known and such events as the banquet of Monday night give ample proof to the skill of Miss Baldwin as a domestic science instructor.

COLONEL ROOSEVELT VISITS WASHINGTON

SPENDS BUSY NINE HOURS AT NATIONAL CAPITAL

Speaks on South American Expedition, Calls on President, Holds a Political Conference, Visits Smithsonian Institute, Meets Members of Diplomatic Corps, and Has Dinner With Old Friends.

WASHINGTON, May 26.—Former President Roosevelt came back today to the national capital where he spent seven years as chief executive. Into nine hours he crowded a speech on his South American expedition, a call on President Wilson, a political conference of first importance with the Progressive in congress, a visit to the Smithsonian institute to see the trophies from his African hunt of four years ago, a meeting with a few members of the diplomatic corps and a dinner with his old friends here.

There was no doubt that he had a thoroughly good time. The Progressive members of congress were at the party headquarters to meet him after the lecture tonight and go over the political situation with him. It was understood that Colonel Roosevelt was desirous of sounding sentiment here, particularly with reference to the advisability of making an early attack on the policies of the Wilson administration. With the exception of his conference with the Progressive congressmen, politics played little part in his day here. He was too busy for that. Reports that while here he might meet Republican leaders came to naught for the colonel saw none of them.

"Not a Republican showed his head," he said laughingly. Colonel Roosevelt's visit with President Wilson was perhaps of greater interest to the public than any other event of the day. The president and his predecessor spent more than half an hour together and talked of most everything except politics. A good deal of the time was put in at telling stories.

MYSTERY IS SOLVED BY DOWNERS GROVE BOY'S SUICIDE

Young Barr Throws Himself Beneath Train After the Death of Florence Bentley.

Downers Grove, Ill., May 26.—The mystery surrounding the death of Florence Bentley whose body was found in the woods near here last night was solved today when her childhood suitor Reginald A. Barr, threw himself beneath a train and was killed this morning at Lisle. In a note found on the body, Barr declared that Miss Bentley's death was an accident and that when he found her unconscious in his arms Saturday night he was crazed by grief and made three unsuccessful efforts to kill himself. The note said that Miss Bentley was killed when he tried to kiss her. She screamed and he placed his hand over her mouth. In the ensuing struggle they tripped and fell and the girl became unconscious and died. It has not been determined whether the girl died of heart disease, a broken neck or was smothered.

In agony of remorse and fear, Barr walked to Aurora where he purchased some poison and returning prostrated himself before the girl's body and swallowed it. When the poison failed he tried to drown himself, again tried poison and then, after two days wandering, cast himself before the train.

Not for thirty four years has the temperature climbed so high before on May 26th, as it did this afternoon when it reached 90 degrees officially and was reported higher in various parts of town. Reports from upstate indicated a general heat wave prevailed in the country districts.

The mercury rose to 95 in the shade in several places.

REV. PATMONT DOES NOT RESUME STORY AS EXPECTED

Rescued "Dry" Worker is Reported on Verge of Nervous Breakdown and Is Taken on Auto Ride on Advice of Physician.

Danville, Ill., May 26.—Rev. Louis R. Patmont did not resume his story before the grand jury today as expected. It was announced that he was on the verge of a nervous breakdown, and on the advice of a physician he was taken on an automobile ride into the country. The leaders assisting in the investigation of the alleged kidnapping of Rev. Patmont at Westville, March 31st, and his imprisonment in a cellar until shortly before he was found and helpless in an abandoned farm house near Columbia, Monroe county, last Saturday stated that his nervous system suffered a severe strain as a result of his ill treatment and it was feared that he would collapse if it was continued.

It was believed that the automobile ride included a portion of the territory near Westville, that detectives accompanied the party and an effort made to find the farm house in which the dry worker claimed to have been imprisoned for nearly two months. It could not have been far from the mining village for the roads on March 31 were impassable except between Westville and Danville and Westville and Georgetown, five miles each way and could not have been negotiated by an automobile. It is possible if Rev. Patmont's story is true that he was taken in an automobile ride about the streets of Westville and imprisoned in that town.

Recognizing the fact that his story if unsupported by considerable corroborative evidence would be insufficient to cause indictments to be issued, it is believed that every effort possible is being made to locate the place of his imprisonment and identify the automobile and its owner.

Detectives are impressed with the fact that a stone quarry is located near Columbia, believing it possible that the two Italians alleged to have been among Rev. Patmont's kidnappers, might have worked there at some time and thereby learned the location of the old farm house and that Rev. Patmont was taken there when the detectives were pushing them too closely at Westville. There is quite a large Italian colony at Westville and a still larger one at the Fairmount stone quarry a few miles west of the mining village.

ULSTER HAS SO FAR FAILED TO KEEP ITS THREAT OF REVOLT

Both Civil and Military Authorities However are Ready for a Hurry Call to Suppress Rioting.

London, May 26.—Ulster has failed to keep its threat of revolt following the final adoption by the house of commons of the home rule bill. "Belfast is as quiet as a well ordered sewing meeting" is the admission of one of the Unionist newspapers.

The authorities, however, civil and military, are keeping a careful watch and troops are held at stations with steam up in readiness to rush troops or armed police where ever they might be needed to suppress riots which nearly thought were bound to occur.

Meanwhile many unionists declare that it is only the calm which presages a fierce storm and that, failing in the defeat of the government at a general election civil wars looms ahead as a certainty.

A curious feature of the situation is that the Unionist leaders are now claiming that the Ulster volunteers are preserving peace in Ulster.

CALLS STATE CONVENTION.

Springfield, Ills., May 26.—A call for state convention of the Prohibition party, to be held in this city July 8th and 9th, was issued today by Robert H. Patton, chairman of the state committee. The fact that at the last election the party did not roll a sufficient number of votes to entitle it to operate under the primary election law makes it necessary for the candidates on the Prohibition ticket to get the ballot by petition.

It was stated by Chairman Patton that the party would have candidates for all state, congressional, senatorial and county offices at the coming election.

ACTUAL TERMS NOW UNDER DISCUSSION

MEDIATORS LOOK FOR EARLY AGREEMENT ON PEACE PLAN

Plan of Pacification, So Far as Developed in the Conference, is Known to Be Simple—Its Object is the Establishment of a New Provisional Government in Mexico Silliman Safe at Vera Cruz.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., May 26.—The actual terms and details of a plan for the pacification of Mexico are now under discussion by mediation conference according to an announcement made tonight by Justice Lamar.

An early agreement is looked for. The turn in the proceedings from a point where it seemed as if the land problem might cause serious embarrassment, to an understanding as to the treatment of some of the delicate issues involved came after a conference between the mediators and the American delegates. In his announcement Justice Lamar declared:

"On a number of details we find ourselves in substantial agreement. Others are still under discussion but as to them there has been no disagreement."

From the mediators themselves it was learned that some of the vital points had been reached today. These are understood to include the manner in which the present regime in Mexico would give way to a new provisional government. That General Huerta had given consent to the programme thus far outlined, here was one of the reports, from reliable sources, upon which to some of the optimism displayed was believed to be based.

There is reason to believe, however, that before any list of names is given by the American government some tacit endorsement from the constitutionalists must come. It is assumed here that the Washington government would be willing to assume the responsibility of trying to bring the constitutionalists into harmony with a provisional government thus created. The plan of pacification, so far as developed, is known to be simple. Its object is the establishment of a new provisional government.

Silliman Is Safe.
Relief was expressed when it was learned that John R. Silliman, the American vice-consul who has been imprisoned for twenty-one days at Saltillo had arrived safely at Vera Cruz.

The mediators and all delegates are going to Toronto tomorrow to attend the garden party given by Sir John Gibson, Lieutenant governor, in honor of the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and the Princess Patricia, but mediation will not be interrupted long as there will be informal conferences on the train.

ined, said he lived in Chapin and had heard of the case through the papers. He formed an opinion to a certain extent and expressed it. He said he did not know the Henry family and was employed as an elevator man. He said that he was not prejudiced to insanity as a defense and Mr. Hairgrove asked him this question: "If on the whole evidence you have a reasonable doubt as to the sanity of the defendant at the time the crime was committed would you give him a fair and impartial trial?"

The prosecution objected to this question and Mr. Hairgrove changed his question somewhat: "It being the law of this state that insanity is a proper defense in criminal cases whereon consideration there is a reasonable doubt as to the sanity of that defendant at the time the crime was committed, would you hesitate to find that man not guilty?" The juror said he could observe the law and was passed upon by the defense as competent.

The prosecution took up the questioning and Mr. Butler asked if he knew any of the Henry family, to which Mr. Funk answered in the negative. He said he was 50 years old and married. He said he knew no reason why he could not try the case fairly and impartially, and was passed upon as competent by the prosecution.

Mr. Turley was excused at this time. Daniel Dietrick was next examined and said he lived in Concord. He had heard and talked of the case, and that the people with whom he talked knew some of the parties in the case. He had formed an opinion, still has it, and would require evidence to change it. Heard what he supposed to be the facts of the case. Judge Jones asked him if it was mere rumor he heard or if it had been with some one who knew the facts. He said he could not render a fair verdict and was excused for cause.

W. R. Zahn of Concord was next questioned by Mr. Hairgrove. He was asked the usual questions and said that he had learned of the case by conversation and through the newspapers and had formed an opinion based on these facts as he heard them. He was inclined to think that it would be hard for him to change his opinion. He was excused for cause.

Presumption as to Insanity.

Elmer Henderson of Arcadia was questioned by Mr. Hairgrove and said that he had read the papers and had heard the matter discussed for months in his store at Concord. He said it would take a large amount of evidence to remove the opinion that he had formed. The challenge of the defense for cause was allowed against Mr. C. Cratz.

Next came Fred Ford of Waverly, who said that he had read and talked about the case and that his opinions were pretty well fixed. In response to further questions he said that he did not believe he could enter the trial with an open mind and he was excused for cause.

J. C. Strawn, answering Mr. Hairgrove, said he lived northeast of Jacksonville, a son of Jacob Strawn. The juror said that he had read and heard of the case and had an opinion which it would take evidence to remove. The defense challenged the juror, but the court overruled the challenge after he had asked Mr. Strawn if the law and evidence as presented during the trial of the case would not be given a preference over his opinions. The juror answered affirmatively. The defense then passed the juror as competent on the basis of the opinion of the court.

Opinions Removable By Evidence Allowed. Mr. Butler learned by questioning that Mr. Strawn had no acquaintance with the Henry family and that his opinions were based solely upon newspaper reports or refuted facts. Mr. Butler challenged the juror for cause, but the court would not allow the challenge and explained again that attorneys must show before rejecting a juror that the juror stated that his opinions could not be removed by the law and evidence. He then questioned Mr. Strawn on this point and was satisfied with the answer. When Mr. Butler asked the juror if he had any conscientious scruples on infliction of the death penalty he answered affirmatively and the challenge of the state for cause was allowed. The court records showed that up to this point the defense had used eight of the twenty preemptory challenges which the laws allows them.

S. C. Latham was asked the customary questions by Mr. Hairgrove and was passed as competent. In the hands of Mr. Butler Mr. Latham said that it would require some evidence to remove his opinions, but these opinions were founded solely upon alleged facts. Later, however, upon a question that he was a party to a suit now pending in the circuit court and Judge Jones therefore allowed the challenge of the state for cause.

The fact that Mr. Latham was one of the parties to a chancery suit disqualified him for jury service in view of the challenge.

John A. Vieira, answering Mr. Hairgrove, said that he is 26 years of age and a son of Joshua Vieira, living a few miles northeast of Jacksonville. He had never served on a jury before, had not talked much about the case, and had read only scattering accounts of it in the newspapers. The defense considered him competent and passed him over to the state. Mr. Butler asked some further questions as to his family connections and then asked the question with reference to the juror understanding the rules of law as related to insanity and sanity. The juror said, too, that he had no scruples as to the infliction of the death penalty if the evidence justified it.

Sought to Retain Mr. Reinback.

The state passed the juror as competent. The defense then tendered Messrs. Reinback, Hender-time of the commission of an alleged crime. Mr. Boyd said he could observe those rules and we was passed as acceptable to the state.

Albert Butler of Mercedosia was interrogated by Mr. Hairgrove. He said that he had heard and read of the case; that he had an opinion and had expressed it; and that it would take evidence to remove it.

Judge Jones Questioned Jurors.

Judge Jones at various times made it clear that he would not allow a challenge for cause simply based upon the statement that a juror had formed an opinion and that it would take evidence to remove this opinion. He several times questioned the jurors and overruled the challenges of the attorneys on this point. The judge questioned Mr. Butler and asked him if notwithstanding the opinions formed he would not be guided by the law and the evidence as presented in the trial. The juror maintained that he would probably be influenced by his present opinion regardless of evidence and the court then allowed him to be excused.

In answer to Mr. Hairgrove Arthur Hale of Mercedosia, said he had read and talked of the case and that he had expressed an opinion as to the truth of the statements he had read or heard and he was excused by the defense for cause.

Charles Holliday, who was examined by Mr. Hairgrove, said that he was a farmer living in the vicinity of Chapin. He had read of the case; had no opinion; and was not prejudiced against the plea of insanity as a defense. Questioned by Mr. Butler he said that he was 28 years old and a son of J. B. Holliday of Chapin; he was advised as to the rules of law concerning intent and the presumption that a man charged with a crime is sane unless evidence is produced to contradict it and he was also asked if he had had any prejudice against the infliction of the death penalty. He was passed by the state as competent, but later after a conference between attorneys for the defense and members of the Henry family he was excused peremptorily.

Roy Abernathy of Concord was questioned by Mr. Hairgrove and said that he had formed an opinion from what he had heard and read and that it would take evidence to remove the opinion. Judge Jones then questioned the juror as to his ability to set aside this opinion and to bring in a verdict in accordance with the law and evidence as presented in the case. The juror still maintained that he would probably be partial and he was excused for cause.

B. A. Cratz of Concord was next questioned by Mr. Hairgrove and said that he had read the papers and had heard the matter discussed for months in his store at Concord. He said it would take a large amount of evidence to remove the opinion that he had formed. The challenge of the defense for cause was allowed against Mr. C. Cratz.

Next came Fred Ford of Waverly, who said that he had read and talked about the case and that his opinions were pretty well fixed. In response to further questions he said that he did not believe he could enter the trial with an open mind and he was excused for cause.

J. C. Strawn, answering Mr. Hairgrove, said he lived northeast of Jacksonville, a son of Jacob Strawn. The juror said that he had read and heard of the case and had an opinion which it would take evidence to remove. The defense challenged the juror, but the court overruled the challenge after he had asked Mr. Strawn if the law and evidence as presented during the trial of the case would not be given a preference over his opinions. The juror answered affirmatively. The defense then passed the juror as competent on the basis of the opinion of the court.

Opinions Removable By Evidence Allowed. Mr. Butler learned by questioning that Mr. Strawn had no acquaintance with the Henry family and that his opinions were based solely upon newspaper reports or refuted facts. Mr. Butler challenged the juror for cause, but the court would not allow the challenge and explained again that attorneys must show before rejecting a juror that the juror stated that his opinions could not be removed by the law and evidence. He then questioned Mr. Strawn on this point and was satisfied with the answer. When Mr. Butler asked the juror if he had any conscientious scruples on infliction of the death penalty he answered affirmatively and the challenge of the state for cause was allowed. The court records showed that up to this point the defense had used eight of the twenty preemptory challenges which the laws allows them.

S. C. Latham was asked the customary questions by Mr. Hairgrove and was passed as competent. In the hands of Mr. Butler Mr. Latham said that it would require some evidence to remove his opinions, but these opinions were founded solely upon alleged facts. Later, however, upon a question that he was a party to a suit now pending in the circuit court and Judge Jones therefore allowed the challenge of the state for cause.

The fact that Mr. Latham was one of the parties to a chancery suit disqualified him for jury service in view of the challenge.

Sought to Retain Mr. Reinback.

The state passed the juror as competent. The defense then tendered Messrs. Reinback, Henderson, Hart and Vieira as second panel of the jury. At this point the state preemptory challenged Mr. Reinback. Mr. Hairgrove objected to allowing this challenge as he said that Mr. Reinback had been passed upon Monday by the state, accepted and tendered to the defense. The court ruler however that the objection was not valid in that the panel in which Mr. Reinback had been tendered had subsequently been broken. Mr. Hairgrove asked that his exceptions be noted in the record of the case.

Adam McDaniel of Chapin was interrogated by Mr. Butler for the state when he said that he had expressed an opinion and that the opinion would to some extent govern his finding in the case, the challenge of the state for cause was allowed.

William Henry of Chapin was next questioned by Mr. Butler and said that he was a railroad laborer; that he came from Kentucky to this county. He had read and talked of the case and said that a large amount of evidence would have to be produced to change his opinion. He said too that he felt that his opinion would bias his mind to some extent, and the challenge of the state for cause was allowed.

Earl Fountain of Chapin was examined by Mr. Butler. He said that he was 25 years of age and a farmer and that his opinion in the case was such that only very strong evidence would remove it. Asked by the court if the law and the evidence would not remove from his mind any opinion previously formed and not justified by the law and the evidence the juror said he was in doubt on this matter and the challenge of the state for cause was allowed. With the examination of Mr. Fountain the morning session was adjourned and twelve jurors in the box were charged by the court to remain in the custody of the sheriff and not to talk about the case. An adjournment was then taken to 1:30.

When court opened in the afternoon Mr. Butler examined W. T. Filson. He said he lived in Concord, and was 29 years of age. He said he was not married and was a farmer by occupation, and his father's name was Dan Filson. His mother was keeping house for him on his farm. He said he had talked a little about the case. He had not expressed his opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. He also said he did not know John Henry or any of his family and has had no business dealings with them. There were no reasons why he could not give a fair and impartial trial. He was asked this question: "A man is presumed to be of sound mind until evidence is introduced to raise a reasonable doubt as to his sanity, now would you observe that law if accepted as a juror?" The juror said he would and was passed upon as competent by the prosecution. Then Mr. Hairgrove took up the questioning for the defense. Again Mr. Filson said he knew nothing much about the case and had never expressed an opinion. He was passed upon as competent by the defense.

Mr. Vieira was excused at this point. The next juror was Jerry Griffin, who said he lived in Chapin and was 58 years of age. He is married and has a family. He knew of the case from what he had heard and read in the newspapers. He had talked with no people familiar with the facts. He had formed a fixed opinion, still holds it, and might be influenced in his verdict. He was dismissed.

Knew Henry Family Well. The next was W. H. Williamson who said he was a stock raiser, and a married man with a family. He had heard about the case and talked with people who knew the facts and said he had formed his opinion and still held it. He said he was not acquainted very much with John Henry. He said he had known Mr. Charles Henry all his life. It was social relation and he had not had business dealings with them. He said he might render a fair verdict but it would take strong evidence to remove his opinion, and was excused for cause.

Henry Devinger from Mercedosia was next examined and he said he had read and heard of the case and that he had formed a fixed opinion which he now held and which would require strong evidence to remove. He was opposed to the death penalty in any case, and was excused for cause.

Sydney Smith the next juror examined said he lived in Concord and was a married man with a family. He said he was not acquainted with any members of the Henry family and that what he knew he had read in the newspapers and heard talked, but from no one who knew the facts. He had formed an opinion from what he read and still held same. He had had no business relations with the Henry family. He said he had no conscientious scruples against the death penalty in any case, and was then passed upon as competent by the prosecution. He was then questioned by Mr. Hairgrove and passed upon as competent by the defense and then excused for cause.

Edgar Cooper of Concord was examined and said he was 29 years of age. He said he was married and had a family and worked with his father. He had talked about the case and formed an opinion which he thought he could change with the right kind of evidence. He said he would observe the laws given him in the court room and was passed upon as competent by the prosecution. Mr. Hairgrove took the questioning for the defense, and the juror said he was not prejudiced to insanity as a defense.

Edward Allen said he lives northeast of town and was not married. He said he did not know John Henry and has heard the case talked of. Some of the people knew the facts of the case. He had formed an opinion and had expressed the opinion, which was taken from newspaper ac-

FUNERAL OF D. REES BROWNING IS HELD TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Services Held at Late Residence Are Largely Attended—Rev. G. A. Snively Delivers Fitting Eulogy.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the Browning residence, 1014 South Main avenue, Tuesday afternoon to play last tribute of respect to the memory of D. Rees Browning, whose funeral services were held at 4 o'clock. It was peculiarly fitting that such a friend as Rev. G. A. Snively of Lewiston, who had as well been a former pastor, should officiate at the funeral.

The discourse was well chosen, brief and worthy of the man whose character and worth were so well known in this community. He read the first psalm, setting forth the good character of the man, "Blessed is the man who walketh, not in the counsel of the ungodly nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful, but whose delight is in the law of the Lord and in his law doth meditate day and night," etc.

Mr. Snively's address follows in part: "Our departed brother had many prominent traits of character and I wish briefly to mention some of them. First was his thrift. He did not waste his substance in riotous living nor senseless extravagance but was prudent and saving and showed that if all would follow his example in that respect there would be far less misery and want in the world. He was careful and thrifty on the one hand, but wholly removed from meanness and greed on the other hand.

"He was loyal to his friends. He was never happier than when serving some one whom he esteemed, nor did his ministrations end with his associates, but his ear was ever open to the cry of the needy. He has often placed in my hands money to be used for the welfare of some poor worthy person. In his beautiful home was room for the preacher and he was ever hospitable and glad to do a favor. When a cloud threatened a young person he came to my home late one evening and asked me to go with him and ward off the danger and we did so.

"He was devoted to his family in a beautiful manner. His aged parents were ever the objects of his constant solicitude as long as they lived. His aged aunts were always kindly cared for by him as far as they needed anything in his power to bestow, and all who were his by kindred or affection received the best he had to give.

"He meant much to the church to which he belonged. Some people make fine religious professions, go through the forms of religion without being really good, but he was a man whose religion extended into his daily life. He did good when none but his Maker and the recipients knew it. He was ever ready to put forth the helping hand and his value in the real work of the church was great, for he was unostentatious, but honest and sincere, while he was comforted by the assurance that he was received by his Master.

"He knew the end on earth was near and he called to his bedside the loved ones and tenderly bade him farewell till they will meet again. We do not look on him as dead and gone forever, but only as one who has a little while preceded us to the better land. He was calm and peaceful in his faith and could say: "I sit beside the silent sea, "And wait the muffled oar, "I know no harm can come to me "On ocean or on shore.

"I know not where His hands lift "Their fringed palms in air; "I only know I cannot drift "Beyond His loving care."

Music for the occasion was furnished by a quartet composed of Mrs. Wallace Brockman, Mrs. Marie Finney, J. Philip Read and Frank Plowman. There were many beautiful flowers which were cared for by Miss Anna Brown, Mrs. Dana, Mrs. Lloyd Brown, Mrs. George Ocar and Mrs. Alden Brown.

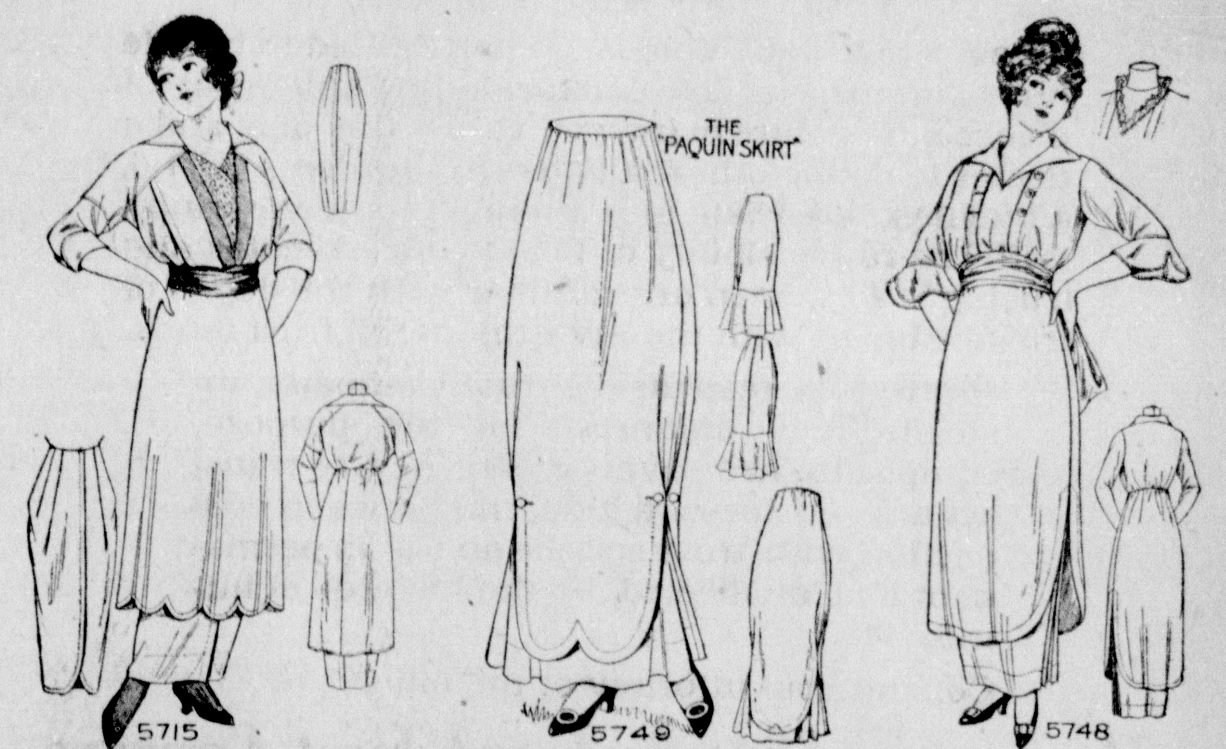

Interment was made in Diamond Grove cemetery and the honorary bearers were: W. S. Alice, Albert Burr, L. L. French, G. G. Huffaker, R. C. Reynolds, W. F. Brown, J. R. Loar, C. C. Capps, F. J. HALF DAY CLOSING SCHEME
Representative Attendance Desired at Chamber of Commerce This Morning.

The proposition to close the retail business houses of the city for one half day each week will be discussed this morning at a meeting called for the purpose in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 9 o'clock. It is desired that each firm in the business district send a representative as the Department of Retail Merchants wishes to determine whether or not those who wish to follow the plan are in the majority. The half day for closing will probably be Wednesday and July 4, August, the month during which this half day vacation is proposed. A petition has been circulated among the merchants and thirty have expressed themselves as favorable to the closing idea. Letters will be read from Decatur and Springfield, where the plan has already been tried.

DISCUSS SWIMMING POOL AT NICHOLS PARK

Booster Club Meets With Nichols Park Board and Several Phases of Subject Talked Over—Matter Will Be Probed Further.

Last evening several of the members of the Booster club met the members of the Nichols park board at the Chamber of Commerce rooms and discussed the matter of a swimming pool at Nichols park. The sentiment of the members of the club was strongly in favor of the pool and the members of the park board assured them of their hearty readiness to co-operate in the matter but the condition of the exchequer would not allow any financial assistance.

The place of the swimming pool was discussed and the fact was set forth that it would be impracticable to have it in any part of the lake itself for several reasons. Many car loads of sand and gravel might be placed to make a beach but in a short time the whole would go down out of sight. The only feasible plan would be to clean out the place already dug for that purpose, cement the bottom and protect the sides in some way.

This with suitable buildings would cost considerable money. Mr. Spooner told of a pool at Shelbyville that had paid for itself in three years and it was not as large as the excavation at the park. He thought a pool in the park would be desirable.

There would be value in the concession for a building and the renting of bathing suits, towels and the like and that would go far toward paying for a pool.

It was finally decided to appoint a committee of five to wait on Mr. Caldwell, civil engineer and ask him to look over the ground and state the best plan and probable cost. Also to wait on the city council and see what privileges would be granted regarding the use of the water in the lake and the emptying of the pool into the lake when the water would need changing.

The chair said he would announce the names of the committee later. The sentiment for a pool was strong and there is a hope that it may be an accomplished fact the present season, at least by the time of the coming chautauqua.

Why Burden a Friend?

The average individual is no more fitted to handle an estate than he is to conduct a law suit or cure a disease. You hire a lawyer to do the one and a doctor to do the other. Then why burden a friend, a business associate or a member of your family with the responsibility of being your executor and trustee? Few men are familiar with the duties of trusteeship or with the investment of trust funds.

Name this responsible trust company instead. It is organized for the purpose, equipped to meet every emergency, to transact any business which may arise in connection with trust service and it is permanent and unaffected by the hazards of human life.

VACCINATION CAUSES DEATH OF SEVENTY OF G. A. LEACH'S HOGS

Porkers Averaging From 125 to 300 Pounds, Die About Six Days After Serum is Administered.

Vaccination of 97 hogs for the prevention of cholera caused the death of 70 of G. A. Leach's porkers recently. Mr. Leach stated last night that most of the seventy died within five days and the rest died within a day or two of the others. The hogs died so fast that a man was kept busy burning them, as Mr. Leach did not let them lay any longer than absolutely necessary.

In speaking of the fatality to the hogs last night Mr. Leach stated that he went to the Board of Live Stock Commissioners in Springfield and secured the vaccine, which was administered by a local veterinarian for the prevention of hog cholera. He said that he had heard of others using the preventative with good success and decided to use it on his hogs. Ninety seven of the animals were treated and in a few days the whole drove was sick. Twenty-seven recovered after a few days sickness. Mr. Leach also said that he was positive that the vaccine was given in the proper manner and that the fault lay with the serum, as he had since read of similar incidents in other parts of the state. Vaccine consists of two substances, the serum taken from a healthy hog, and virus taken from a cholera hog. Mr. Leach said that after treating the animals all of the virus was used, so that he could not send the vaccine to have it examined and determine the exact mistake made in it.

According to a recent issue of the Prairie Farmer, Mr. Leach said, most of the men in the office of the board when he secured the serum, had been relieved of their posts, and that a veterinarian was now at the head of the board.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

The last meeting of the year of the Household Science club was held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. H. W. English at her home, 806 West College avenue. The new program for the coming year was submitted and voted on and the paper for the afternoon, "The Homes of Other Nations", was presented by Mrs. J. A. Day. Mrs. J. J. Reeve and Mrs. E. P. Cleary gave a report of the meeting of the Federation of Women's Clubs in Petersburg and Miss Annie Hinrichsen also told of the Petersburg meeting. After the regular business, which included an election of officers, a social hour was enjoyed when refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. H. B. Smith, Miss Florence Ward and Miss Rose Bellatti.

The election of officers resulted in the choice of the following: President—Mrs. Frank Byrns. Vice president—Mrs. W. S. Camp. Secretary—Mrs. J. A. Day. Treasurer—Mrs. Dunlap.

The May birthday social of the ladies of Westminster Presbyterian church was an event of more than ordinary pleasure yesterday. Mrs. L. H. Davis, 866 West College avenue, entertained the ladies with the assistance of Mrs. W. T. Reaugh, Miss Helen Reaugh and Miss Maria Watkinsen, all of whom have birthdays within the present month. Social converse was enjoyed from 2:30 until 5:30 o'clock, with the welcome addition of delicate refreshments. Miss Annie Moore favored the company with a reading from Margaret DeLand, entitled "Dorthea's Promises."

Miss Grace Leary entertained a company of twenty at her home, 316 East Lafayette avenue, Tuesday evening at a shower in honor of Miss Anna Mackey, who is soon to wed Frank Davidson of this city. A very pleasant time was spent in playing games and the bride-to-be received many nice presents. During the evening refreshments were served.

Mrs. W. T. Wilson entertained the members of the James Caldwell Chapter, D. A. R., Tuesday afternoon at her home, 1312 West State street. At the opening of the meeting Mrs. Thomas Harber sang, "The Irish Mother's Lullaby" by Margaret Lang and "Madcap Margery" by Frederick Norton. The accompaniment was played by Miss Ruth Spaulding. Miss Alice Wadsford gave a review of "Hugh Wynne, Free Quaker" and reports of the Continental D. A. R., at Washington were made by Mrs. O. F. Buffe, Miss Ella Trabue and Miss Janette Powell. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served.

A meeting of the East Side Tuesday club was held at the home of Mrs. Dennis Schram, Monday. At this meeting a report of the two days' convention of the district Federation held last week in Petersburg was given by Mrs. A. B. Wilkerson. Mrs. Pierson, vice president of the Morgan county division, told of the several changes made in the constitution of the Federation, so that there would be a closer harmony in the work being done and also to conform the constitution with that of the State organization. The following departments were created and the chairman will be the district officer.

- 1—Literary, Music Art.
- 2—Physic.
- 3—Legislative.
- 4—Child Welfare and Philanthropy.
- 5—Public Health.
- 6—Home Economics and Pure Food.
- 7—Publicity.

These chairmen will be elected for two years, except for this year, when those named for the even numbers will hold office but one year. Mrs. Ben Lorton gave a fine talk on her impressions on attending her first meeting of the Federation. The hostess served light refreshments and the club will not meet again until September.

FAMOUS SOCIOLOGIST DIES AT HOME IN EAST

Jacob A. Riis Answers Final Summons Monday After Long Illness—Was First Stricken at New Orleans.

Barre, Bass., May 26.—Jacob A. Riis, author and philanthropist, who has been ill at his home for some time, died today.

Mr. Riis broke down last year, but through careful treatment was able to rehabilitate his health sufficiently to allow him to make a lecture trip through the country. At New Orleans he collapsed, after which he was taken to a sanitarium at Battle Creek, Mich.

Jacob August Riis became, through his work in behalf of the poorer people in New York, "the most useful citizen" of the metropolis, according to a tribute paid to him by Theodore Roosevelt, his intimate friend.

As an almost penniless immigrant he obtained knowledge of the slums at first hand and found conditions there so repellant that he consecrated his whole life to warfare against wretchedness.

Riis was the thirteenth child of a Latin teacher in Ribe, Jutland, Denmark. He was born in 1849. Protesting at the literary career which his father had cut out for him, young Riis decided to work with his hands and became a carpenter's apprentice. The vocation he had chosen did not prevent him, however, from falling in love with Elizabeth Nielson, daughter of one of the richest men in his native town. But she refused him, and when Riis was 21 years old, having learned his trade, he embarked for New York with $40 in his pocket. He spent half the sum for a heavy navy pistol as soon as he landed "to fight Indians and desperados."

Riis led a varied career during the following six years. He built miners' huts in a Pennsylvania construction camp, mined coal, made bricks, drove a team and peddled flat irons and books. At 27 he spent his last cent in reaching New York, hoping to enlist through the French consul in the Franco-Prussian war, but his services were refused, and Riis was forced to accept a beginner's place as a reporter for a New York news bureau. At the very first he made his most conspicuous success in the study of conditions on the East Side of New York.

With only $75 capital and notes for $575, he succeeded in buying the "South Brooklyn News," which was on the verge of bankruptcy and made such a success with the property that he was able to sell it at considerable profit a few years later. He returned to Denmark and married the girl who had refused him when he was a carpenter's apprentice. This first wife died in 1905 and two years later Riis married Mary Phillips of St. Louis.

As a reporter on the New York Tribune and later on the New York Sun, Riis took up his real work in slum fighting. While attending to routine duty as a police reporter, he worked day and night to arouse the people to the need of improved living conditions. One of the first of his campaigns was against the impurity of the city water, and it was his fight which finally led to the purchase of the Croton water-shed to assure safe drinking water for New York.

He brought sunlight to the tenement districts by forcing the destruction of rear tenements. He entirely cleared Mulberry Bend, one of the worst tenement sections in the city, and replaced the squalid homes by shady parks.

Theodore Roosevelt was police commissioner of New York when Riis attacked houses. He won his point and incidentally a strong ally in Mr. Roosevelt. Riis drove bakershops out of tenement basements; he fought for laws abolishing child labor; and was largely instrumental in getting the passage of "the briefest, wisest, and best statute on the books of New York, laying down the principle that hereafter no school shall be built without an adequate playground."

After twenty-seven years as a reporter, Riis resigned to continue his fight by writing and lecturing. Among the products of his pen are "How the Other Half Lives," "The Children of the Poor," "The Making of an American," (his autobiography), "The Battle With the Slum," "Children of the Tenements," "The Old Town," "Theodore Roosevelt, the Citizen," and "Hero Tales From the Far North."

It costs $1.50 per jug at home. Get circular and try this for all ailments.—Adv.

Author Jacob Riis Suddenly Stricken With Heart Failure

The New Orleans dispatches describing the critical condition of Jacob Riis from heart failure awakened new interest in this picturesque character, who, a poor immigrant boy, rose to national prominence as an author and as a charity worker. Riis, one of ex-President Roosevelt's most intimate associates, has frequently predicted that the latter would be re-elected president

The Jingoos

By WALT MASON.

The publishers of yellow papers cut up all kinds of jingo capers, and naught can make them cease; for gory war they wildly clamor, and use the bludgeon and the hammer on all who stand for peace. To sell more papers they'd be willing to see the nation go forth spilling its own and others' blood; they'd stir old hates and make them hotter, and nag our statesmen on to slaughter, and stain our flag with mud. They care not for the hopes of others, nor for the tears of wives and mothers, nor for the swaths of dead; to boost a frenzied circulation they would embroil a peaceful nation and stain the green sod red. When next the country calls for fighters we ought to see that martial writers are in the foremost rank; we ought to place them where the foe can shoot each one in the abdomen—another name for tank. I'd like to see these brimstone eaters go forth with cleavers and repeaters to slay the dusky Mex; to see them through the desert drilling and forced to take a hand in killing till blood ran down their necks. Though they are fat and feeble-wristed, the whole blamed bunch should be enlisted and trotted to the front; before a mile of ground they'd cover they'd wish the White Dove over them hovert—they'd cuss the warlike stunt.

Al Demaree, who had them all standing upon their heads at the opening of the season, appears to have become stale. In the last four games in which he started he has been practically knocked out of the box. Monday the jinxed Cubs took a punch at him and with the assistance of some ivory coaching by Larry McLean, the cartoonist was marked up a loser.

Hughie Jennings is not feeding on clover stubble these days. This eastern trip has been too much for Boston, too much for Connie Mack, and Monday too much for Johnson landed the Senators within one-half a game of the leaders. The Scranton barrier will resume his weed pulling next week—he is scheduled to take a wallop at the sliding Callahans.

Russell Ford was given a severe drubbing by Kansas City at Buffalo.
The ex-Yankee had nothing but an unclothed ball, and Stovall's outlaws pounded it all over the bison permises. Nick Cullip, another jumpsper from the American league, performing for Kansas City, was a tightwad with his hits, but with walks he was quite as liberal as a drunken sailor among hungry land-lubber.

Wagner's single with two on bases and two out gave the Pirates
the opening game with Brooklyn.
—Press dispatch. The same old story.
Honus is always thereabouts when there is "anything stirring."

Something has stopped Paddy Livingstone. A sacrifice was the best he had in him Monday when he faced Ritchie of Kansas City.

The Toronto races opened Monday at Woodbine park. As usual at the Canadian track, seven interesting events were pulled off, and nearly all of them were public choices. Al Dunlap of Jacksonville, about ten days since, notified friends here that he would race his string at Toronto and should be able to land part of the money at this meeting, usually a paradise for the owner of small strings.

HEAD COVERED WITH DRY SCALE

Hair Came Out. Head Itched and Bled. Could Not Attend School. Two Cakes of Cuticura Soap and One Box Cuticura Ointment Cured.

2760 Tamm Ave., St. Louis, Mo.—"My little daughter's head began with a dry, scaly scale covering it. First it got a white scale over the top and then it got a dirty brown scab with pus under it. Her hair came out in less than a week and her head itched and bled. She had no rest. I had her wear a scarf all the time, it looked so badly. She was so sore and had such big brown scabs on her head that the teacher would not let her attend school.

"We took and had her treated for three months with no relief. She kept getting worse until I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. I used the Cuticura Soap every third day and the Cuticura Ointment at night. After three days the scabs began to come off and new hair to come in. In three weeks her head was well of sores. Two cakes of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment completely cured her." (Signed) Mrs. Walter Rogers, Nov. 28, 1912.

"Why not have a clear skin, soft white hands, a clean scalp and good hair? It is your birthright. Cuticura Soap with an occasional use of Cuticura Ointment will bring about these coveted conditions in most cases when all else fails. A single set is often sufficient. Sold throughout the world. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 22-p. Skin Book. Address post-card 'Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston.'"

Men who shave and shampoo with Cuticura Soap will find it best for skin and scalp.

Mother's Friend Before Baby Arrives

During several weeks of expectancy there is a splendid external embrocation in our 'Mother's Friend' in which thousands of women have the most unbounded confidence. They have used it and know. They tell its wonderful influence to ease the abdominal muscles and how they avoided those dreaded stretching pains that are so much talked about. This safe external application is gently used over the skin to render it amenable to the natural stretching which it undergoes. The myriad of nerve threads just beneath the skin is thus relieved of unnecessary pain-producing causes and gives physical relief as the result as expressed by a host of happy mothers who write from personal experience.

It is a subject that all women should be familiar with as 'Mother's Friend' has been in use many years, has been given the most severe tests under most all trying conditions and is recommended by women who to-day are grandmothers and who in their earlier years learned to rely upon this splendid aid to women. 'Mother's Friend' is declared by a multitude of women to be just what expectant mothers need. You can obtain 'Mother's Friend' at almost any drug store. Get a bottle to-day and then write for our little book so useful to expectant mothers. Address: Bradfield Regulator Co., 512 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.

What is said herein of 'Mother's Friend' is but a repetition of the thoughts expressed by thousands of happy mothers who have successfully used this splendid external application.

FRENCHMAN BREAKS RECORD AT INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY

Julius Goux Circles the Two and One-Half Miles Course at a Speed of Approximately 98 1-3 Miles Per Hour.

Indianapolis, Ind., May 26.—Julius Goux, winner of the 500 mile race here last year, broke the record for one lap at the Indianapolis motor speedway this afternoon when he circled the 2 1-2 miles course in 1:21.71, a speed of approximately 98 1-3 miles per hour.

Goux also beat the records set earlier in the day by Teddy Tetzlaff and Joe Dawson. In the straightaways Goux attained a speed estimated at 115 miles an hour the fastest that has ever been seen here.

Joe Dawson, who won the 1912 race, among the first of the drivers on the track today, drove one lap unofficial, in 1:34.8, beating the record recently set by Georges Boillot in a French car.

Dawson had hardly taken his car into the garage when Tetzlaff sent his racer around the course in 1:33.4.

Thirteen of the elimination laps were run today. Other racers who made the tests are: Oldfield, 1:45.6; Dawson, 1:32.2; Thomas, 1:35.0; Bauman, 1:39.55; DePalma, 1:46.98; Christians, 1:38.67; Guyot, 1:43.47; Wishart, 1:39.73; Pullen, 1:46.4; Carlson, 1:36.6; Keene, 1:43.6.

WHALEN'S GELDING BUSKIN WINS METROPOLITAN HANDICAP

Fifteen Thousand People Attend Opening of Racing Season at Belmont Park.

New York, May 26.—Fifteen thousand and persons attended the opening of the thoroughbred racing season at Belmont Park, Long Island, today, where the feature of the card, the Metropolitan handicap, at one mile, was won by John Whalen's four year old gelding Buskin, ridden by Jockey Fairbrother.

After Ten Point had been scratched, August Belmont added Stromboli as a running mate, with Rockview the public favorite, and interest in the event was increased when H. P. Whitney's Borrow, which had run last season in England, was posted as an additional candidate for the race which was worth $4,100 to the winner.

Eleven horses bore silk and they went sent away well together running heads apart for a sixteenth of a mile.

WILL DRIVE TO QUINCY.

Dr. H. L. Griswold and family will leave this morning on a horse and buggy trip to Quincy, where they will visit Representative and Mrs. George H. Wilson. Mrs. Griswold and children will remain for an extended stay and Dr. Griswold will return by the first of next week. They intend to make stops at Perry and Bloom Springs on their way to Quincy.

LITERBERRY.

About twenty-five members of the Ohio society met on last Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Young on the corner of Peoria boulevard and West Capitol street. A pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent. Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Henderson are entertaining their son, Charles Ray, of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Hannah Brainer, her sons, Walter and Charlie, and granddaughter, Thelma Holt, all of "Hill View," in the Bent, came up to visit at Sunshine cottage last Thursday afternoon, and it is needless to say there was something doing in the talking line.

Captain Taylor also came up and brought his overalls with him. He was on a mission of charity. Knowing that we had not been able to rig up or drive the Mitchell car this spring, he came, ready for work and put her in running order and drove several trips for us; he also mowed the yard and made himself useful in many ways. Saturday he drove the car for us to Jacksonville and Sunday to Grace Chapel. We were pleased to be among the dear people of the chapel once more, and in particular do we rejoice to see the strength of the Sunday school. Our people are moving forward in church work, which shows they are progressive.

We also had the pleasure of hearing a lecture on China by Bro. Nichols, which was well worth the trip down to the church. Mr. and Mrs. Litter went along and assisted in running the car home, as Mr. Taylor remained in the Bent, where he has other work to do. So you can see we are having a good time and are well taken care of.

We had a fine Sunday school at the Baptist church Sunday morning, which we enjoyed, after being deprived of, for so many weeks. Brother Dickman preached a good sermon from the subject, "A New Name."

Eddie Litter, at the corner of Broadway and Sweet Briar avenue, had a birthday Sunday and his relatives came in to help him enjoy it.

Mrs. Charles Mullens went down to Chapin Sunday to his her people.

MARKHAM.

Miss Mae Paschall visited friends in Jacksonville last week.

The road west of Markham is finished now and in excellent condition. Mr. and Mrs. Will Stout of Chapin spent Sunday at the home of Mr. Stout's parents, Marshall Stout.

Memorial Sunday was observed at Mt. Zion church with Mr. J. B. Williamson as speaker.

The corn is nearly all in now and the farmers are wishing for rain.

This neighborhood was represented in Jacksonville Saturday by W. H. Parschall, A. Thomason, Mr. and Mrs. Hainey Blumling and Dawn Farland.

Fourteenth Successful Year in Jacksonville. Consultation and Examination Free

I treat successfully the cases I undertake and accept no fee from those who are incurable. That is why I continue to visit year after year, while other specialists make only a few visits and then cease to return.

IS THIS THE WAY YOU FEEL?

Tired in the morning and easily excited? Are you dizzy or nervous? Pain in the head? Tongue coated? Have you Catarrh—nose stopped up? Gas on the stomach? Hands and feet cold? Pain of hands and feet? Have you a dull, dragging pain or ache of the body, back or limbs? Have you Rheumatism? Have you Piles? Piles—itching or bleeding? Have you kidney or bladder trouble, lame or weak back, pains in back or joints? Have you any blood disease—scrofula, skin eruptions, pimples, bone pains, pale complexion and losing weight?

I invite you to call and investigate the Carson System of the treatment of Chronic Diseases, which I have perfected after fifteen years of experience and study, and you will be convinced that my modern, up to date methods of curing disease are what you need.

REMEMBER DATE OF VISIT.

Come early as parlors are always crowded. A friendly call may save you future suffering. It has made life anew to thousands who had been pronounced beyond hope.

FARMERS NOTICE

We Are Now Manufacturing Fertilizers For Soil

We have made a careful study of soil conditions and are now putting up an article which is considered the best on the market for INCREASED YIELD Of Corn or Oats. The same has the following analysis:

Bone phosphate 63.09 per cent.
Phosphoric acid 28.90 per cent.
Nitrogen 2.53 per cent.
Ammonia 3.07 per cent.

If you will carefully compare the analysis of our ROYAL BRAND BONE MEAL, you will find that the same is cheaper than the use of Rock Phosphate or any other fertilizers which are now on the market.

It only requires from 100 to 150 pounds of our BONE MEAL to an acre of soil, depending upon the condition of the soil. This will increase your yield of corn or oats from 10 to 20 bushels to the acre for the first year.

Business Falls Considerably Behind

New York, May 26.—The session on the stock exchange today may be dismissed with significant statement that it was the dulllest thus far this year, falling considerably behind last Friday when total transactions aggregated little more than 95,000 today's stagnation it is necessary to go back to mid-summer when the output for a Saturday half ses-

WHEAT PRICES TUMBLE
ON KANSAS CROP ESTIMATES
Total Will Reach 150,000,000 Bushels—Closing Values Steady.

Chicago, May 26.—Notwithstanding a strong start, wheat prices tum-bled today after estimates came that the crop in Kansas would reach the huge total of 150,000,000 bushels. Closing values were steady at a range, varying from 3c decline to an advance of 5c. Corn finished 5/8c off to 1c up, oats 1/2c down to 1c rise and provisions showing a loss of 5/8c to 20c.

Benefit on the part of many that a three cent break previously experienced was enough had considerable to do with causing the wheat market to climb during the first part of the session. Besides European crop advice were less favorable and the European visible supply had fallen off in a manner that attracted notice.

Reports however, from the domestic soft winter belt seemed much less discouraging than of late as to Hessian fly damage and there were advises that new crop winters to arrive were to be sold freely at Kansas City. Attempts of belated shorts to cover led to a ouge in May corn and wheat.

Oats advanced to a new high figure

HEALTH PROBLEMS IN EDUCATION.

Every man, woman and child in the United States should be taught the laws of health and the simple methods needed for their own protection. Not until our whole country becomes educated will control of disease become possible, for the solution of this great problem lies in the prevention, and prevention is education. This education must come through the children. The teaching of hygiene must be started before the habits of the child are fixed. Ordinarily, nothing short will shake an adult out of his accustomed habits of eating, sleeping and working. The teaching of hygiene must therefore be begun in the school while the child is in the plastic age and much can be done to develop the right attitude toward hygienic questions and to fix the habit of sanitary, wholesome, healthy living.

There is one elect place and matchless opportunity to lay the foundation of public health and that is in the body mind and conscience as well as the daily habits of our public citizens. While in our public schools, pupils they should be so unremittently drilled in all hygienic habits and so indelibly impressed with the reasons why they are being taught the care of their own bodies that it will be a part of their education they cannot lose.

Many of even our best school buildings are strangely deficient in even the necessary facilities. Individual drinking cups are carried in dirty pockets or drier caps and loaned freely or entirely forgotten. And an absence of proper provision for washing hands, and an absence of insistence on the part of the teacher that hands should be washed. Cold water and no soap; roller towels. And yet the children we have here, now, are the men and women who will in the future handle our food in markets, dairies, bakeries and kitchens. Is it not worth the while to train them now to keep and work with clean hands?

And will not children learn the principles of good health far better by working under sanitary conditions in a sanitary school house than by reading about hygiene?

The school house should be in appearance, quality and characteristics as good a building as there is in the community. It should express the intelligence, standards and good taste of that community as much as the church or library. It should rank next to not equal to the hospital in all factors and sanitary conditions influencing health.

The expense of things which really effect the health of the pupils in school should be estimated in terms of child life and child health and efficiency, rather than in dollars and cents.

It is the young children who are the most susceptible to the evils of overcrowding, bad lighting, bad seating, bad air and dirt. They are in the habit forming period when the model school and model equipment would mean the most to their future lives.

Yet in most of our towns we find good or fairly good high school buildings, where only about one-tenth of the children ever go, and buildings being used as the grade schools which are unsafe, unclean, unsanitary and unhygienic, without even the necessary equipments for washing hands or drinking. Buildings that any manufacturer who aims at efficient production of mere merchandise would have thrown on the scrap heap long ago. Also in nearly all successful manufacturing industries, where pure air for workers means better work and a larger output, the ventilation furnished is more nearly adequate to the needs of good health than in the best of our schools. False economy in factories shows in dollars and cents, in schools the direct economic affect is not so readily seen, but the bills are finally paid in health and life. The fact that tuberculosis causes more deaths than any other disease and that nearly one-third of all the people that die between the ages of 15 and 45 years of age die from tuberculosis should make us watch with greater care those buildings in which we compel our children to stay so many hours each day, so many days every year, and yet we often see in towns and cities active anti-tuberculosis leagues who realize preventive work is the most important part of their duties, yet allow without protest new school buildings to be built and old ones kept without means of suitable ventilation when even our factories are beginning to realize that they must install a plenum system or some means by which fresh air is forced into the building by a fan system so regulated that each person gets a sufficient supply of fresh air.

The buildings for the training of our young can be made in any community by intelligent planning and without unreasonable expense. Structures of genuine beauty and sources of safety, comfort and pleasure. Drinking fountains installed, windows enlarged and better arranged, light and ventilation improved. And in this enlightened age when the value of play for a child has been proved to be of great importance, a school house without adequate playground and play equipment is an educational deformity and a gross injustice to childhood.

HOME RULE IS LAW.

LONG FIGHT ENDED
London, May 26.—Hope for peace in Ulster despite the passage of the home rule bill in the house of commons by a vote of 351 to 274 is held out by John Redmond.

The Irish Nationalist leader in a statement in which he declared the action of the lower house is equivalent to the passage of the bill into law, urged the Ulsterites into a conciliatory discussion on the points of the measure upon which they desire further safeguards without a resort to civil war.

"Monday's division," says Mr. Redmond, "marks the death after an inglorious history of the 114 years of the union of Pitt and Castlereagh. Its place is to be taken by a new union founded on mutual respect and good will between the two islands."

Proceeding, the Nationalist leader declares that only two eventualities, both of them impossible, could prevent the bill from becoming a statute within a few weeks, the first, that the parliamentary session should come to an abrupt end; the second, that the house of commons should suddenly go mad and decide not to submit the bill for royal assent—both as absurd contingencies as the suggestion that the king would withhold his assent.

NEWS FORECASTS FOR THE COMING WEEK

Of interest to the entire world is the consistory which the pope will hold in Rome the first of the week for the creation of twelve new cardinals. All three of the American members of the sacred college will be in attendance, together with many other cardinals, archbishops and other prelates from all parts of the world. The consistory will be of particular interest to Canada, for the reason that among those to be elevated to the cardinalate is the Most Rev. L. N. Begin, archbishop of Quebec.

Two events of great interest to the sport loving public of Great Britain are on the calendar for the week. The first is the running of the great Epsom Derby and the second is the launching of Shamrock IV, the yacht which Sir Thomas Lipton is building to challenge for America's cup.

The college of history, the first building to be completed on the campus of the American university, the graduate school which the Methodist Episcopal church is establishing in Washington, D. C., is to be counts. He said he could give fair trial if the evidence was strong enough. He was excused for cause. Ernest Sanders said he lives in Concord and was a married man. He does not know John Henry or his family and had no business dealings with them. He said he probably has expressed an opinion but he could not say that he had. He could not see why he could not try the case fairly.

Would Show Bias.

Frank Nash of Chapin said he had lived there eight years, and was 33 years of age. He did not know the defendant. He said he had a fixed opinion that it would take strong evidence to remove and that it would have something to do with his verdict. He said he hardly thought he could go into the jury room and render a verdict that would be derived wholly from the evidence he got in the court room. He was excused for cause.

Thomas Brown said he lived near Sinclair and was married and had a family. He said he had heard of the case through hearsay and reading the newspaper accounts. He had formed an opinion as to the truth of these stories. He had expressed his opinion.

A. M. Waldo of Meredosia said he had never had any business relations with the Henry family and did not know them. He said it would require evidence to remove the opinion he held, and had expressed as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant. Judge Jones then questioned him and he said he could change his opinion on the right evidence. Judge Jones said that the question was not whether the man would change on little or much evidence but whether he would change the opinion he now held. He said he did not have conscientious scruples against capital punishment and was excused for cause.

Casper Blimling, a Concord merchant was questioned by Mr. Smith and Mr. Miller and his answers were satisfactory to both defense and prosecution and he was accepted.

Frank DeSollar of Chapin said he was a carpenter and had heard very little about the case. He said he did not know the defendant. He read very little about it and had talked very little with anybody and therefore had not formed an opinion. He said he did not know the parties of the deceased and had no conscientious scruples against the death penalty. He also said he would obey the law of presuming that every man is sound of mind. Then he was passed upon as competent by the prosecution.

Mr. Hairgrove examined the juror and developed there was some prejudice against the insanity plea.

Mr. Hairgrove examined Mr. Brown. Mr. Hairgrove said: "Mr. Brown the law presumes every man innocent and would you give defendant in this case the benefit of your innocence? Judge Jones explained the matter to the juror by saying that it was the law in this land that every man is presumed to be innocent and this presumption prevailed until his guilt was proven. Mr. Brown said he would give the defendant the benefit of such a presumption."

Evidence Would Remove Opinion

John W. Carwell, said he lives northeast of Jacksonville, did not know the Henry family, but had heard of it with the neighbors and expressed his opinion and said it would take evidence to remove it. He had no conscientious scruples against the death penalty. His opinion was formed from newspapers, and believed to some extent what he read and heard. Judge Jones asked him if he would ignore his opinion and render verdict from the witnesses and he said yes. He was passed upon as competent by the prosecution. Mr. Hairgrove took up the questioning and the juror said he could give the defendant the benefit of his innocence at the beginning of the trial. He saw no reason why he could not try the case fairly and impartially. He was passed upon as competent by the defense. Later he was excused.

Henry Schrahl said he lived outside of Concord, and that he had read about the case in the papers. He had formed an opinion to some extent. He thought he could render a verdict notwithstanding the opinion he had formed. He did not know the Henry family and could not see a reason why he could not try the case fairly and impartially. Mr. Hairgrove took up the questioning. He said he did not know whether he could begin the trial thinking that Mr. Henry was innocent or not. Judge Jones then explained the law to the juror and he said he could give the defendant the benefit of that presumption. He was passed upon as competent by the defense.

Mr. Brown was excused. John Berger of Meredosia, was examined by Mr. Hairgrove. Comparatively few questions were asked him by either the defense or the prosecution. The juror declared that he had no prejudices in the matter and was in a frame of mind to render a verdict in accordance with the facts as presented. The questions as to intent, insanity and prejudice were all answered in a way satisfactory to the attorneys. At this point Charles Sanders was preemptory challenged by the defense.

Louis Baptist was examined by Mr. Hairgrove. He had no special prejudices and was passed as competent by the defense. Under Mr. Miller's questions the juror stated that he had no other acquaintance with the Henry family save that he had been introduced to Charles Henry on the street yesterday. Before the examination was finished it developed that Mr. Baptist had conscientious scruples on the infliction of the death penalty and he was excused for cause at the suggestion of the state.

Conscientious Scruples as to Death Penalty.

George Stice of Waverly was examined by Mr. Hairgrove and in answer to questions said that he had talked and read some about the case though he had no very fixed opinion. He said he guessed a fellow would have to make up his mind as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant from the evidence at the trial. The juror said that there was one thing in his mind that would influence him in declaring himself on a verdict and it was only when Mr. Miller asked if there were conscientious scruples in regard to the death penalty that the juror was able to relieve his mind. Alonzo McDaniel was next called and it developed that he believed the statements made by others with reference to the crime were the facts in the case and he was excused for cause at the suggestion of the defense.

J. M. Leonard of Concord did not have a fixed opinion on the case although he had read something about it and had heard some conversation. It developed that he had served as a juror at the November term of the circuit court. He was passed by the defense as competent. Mr. Miller took the juror through the routine of questions as to intent, sanity and prejudice and then the State challenged Mr. Leonard for cause. They had this right under the law from the fact that he served as a juror at a term of the circuit court within the year.

The court suggested that it was wasting time to go through all the questions and then to challenge because of a fact revealed in the beginning of the examination.

H. H. Hansmeier who gave his residence as eight miles northwest of Jacksonville, was questioned by Mr. Hairgrove. He said that he had talked but little and read but little with reference to the case and that he had no prejudice against the insanity plea as a general proposition. Questioned by Mr. Miller he reiterated that he felt no prejudice in the case whatever and that he had talked very little. The rules with reference to intent as affecting the act of the defendant and the presumption of sanity were explained to him by Mr. Miller and he made it clear that he would follow these rules of law if accepted as a juror. He was passed by both the defense and the prosecution as being competent.

At this point Henry Schall of Meredosia vicinity was excused by the defense preemptorily.

John Taylor was examined by Mr. Hairgrove and said that he was 24 years of age and lived west of Chapin. He had read and heard of the case and had some fixed opinions that it would take very strong evidence to remove them. He had also conversed with some persons he believed knew the facts in the case and he was excused by the defense for cause.

Student of Judge Layman Rejected.

Walter Wright of Concord was examined by Mr. Hairgrove and it developed that he was a school teacher at Concord, and had studied law for some little time in the office of Judge Layman. The juror gave satisfactory answers as to the questions of prejudice and presumption of innocence and said that he knew of no reason why he could not give the defendant a fair and impartial trial. He was declared competent. On examination by Mr. Miller the juror gave satisfactory answers from the standpoint of the State expressing his understanding of the question of intent and the presumption of sanity. Mr. Hairgrove returned to the examination and stated that in view of the juror's relations with Judge Layman, as a attorney for the prosecution that it would hardly seem proper to accept him as a juror and the court ordered the juror discharged and entered the order as a preemptory challenge of the defense.

J. R. Fouts of Chapin was interrogated by Mr. Hairgrove and said he could enter upon the trial without prejudice. He said that he had lived near his present place of residence for eighteen years and that he came to this locality from Concord. When questioned by Mr. Miller the juror had some difficulty in understanding exactly the meaning of the questions propounded by the prosecution as related to intent and to the presumption of sanity until otherwise proven.

This examination resulted in a preemptory challenge against Mr. Fouts by the State. The last man called to the jury box was A. A. McNeal of Sinclair. In answering Mr. Miller's questions he said that he had been a resident at Sinclair for the past thirty years. He expressed a willingness to apply the rules of law as related to intent and the presumption of sanity and had no conscientious scruples to the infliction of the death penalty. He was passed as competent by the State.

Mr. Hairgrove then took up the questioning which he concluded with the following: "If the evidence produced is such as to create a reasonable doubt as to the sanity of the defendant at the time of the crime would you be willing to give the defendant the benefit of that doubt?" The juror said that he would and he was passed as competent.

Oath Given Jurors.

The State then in response to the question by the court expressed willingness to accept the four and a like willingness was expressed by the defense. The court then promptly instructed the clerk to administer the oath to the jurors, he further instructed the jurors as to the conduct they must follow while in the custody of the sheriff; he said that there must be no discussion of the case amongst them and if any effort was made by any person outside to confer with them that they must decline to enter into such conference and notify the officer in charge. He impressed upon them that their only opinion in the case should come from hearing the evidence and argument as presented during the trial. Under the instruction of the court the jury was then taken from the court room under the direction of Deputy Sheriff Ketterling. Some of the spectators in the court room started to leave before the adjournment of court and the judge called the attention of the auditors that it was not proper to have a general dispersing of the audience until the jury had the opportunity of leaving or court order of adjournment had been made.
